MEMORANDUM FOR: [REDACTED] General Counsel
FROM: Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT: Code of Conduct

Personnel

1. The DDCI and I decided this morning that we should put out a revised Code of Conduct and hold up on legislative proposals and contractual changes until we see what the House Committee recommends. I arrived at this conclusion because I am disinclined to impose on our personnel or create impediments to recruitment that are more severe than those imposed upon other parts of the government.

2. Will you review the proposed Code of Conduct, Tab B, and send it along to the DDA for promulgation.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Personnel

STAT FROM: [REDACTED]
Deputy Director for Administration

SUBJECT: Code of Conduct for Former Employees

STAT 1. We believe that [REDACTED] all employees review every year and certify that they have done so, covers the same areas as the proposed Code. Nevertheless, if a Code is considered necessary, then what you propose is a good idea.

2. There is a consensus among the senior officers of this Directorate that we are making a big mistake in our elephant gun approach to control a nest of fleas. None of the proposed actions would have stopped Terpil and Wilson. What we must do is reestablish discipline and pride in our organization. These cannot be legislated.
